Labor: An Ode.

BY G. W. B.

Till swags the axe, and forests bow;
The seeds break out in radiant bloom,
Rich harvests smile around the loom,
And cities cluster round the loom,
Where towering domes and tapering spires
Adorn the vale and crown the hills,
Stout labor lights its beacon fires,
And plumes with smoke the forge and mill.

The monarch oak, the woodland's pride,
Whose trunk is smok'd with lighting scars,
Tall larches on the restless tide,
And there untold the flag of stars;
The eagle with its wings of steel,
And ribs of brass and joints of steel,
From labor's plume of smoke and steam,
With whirling wheels and whirling wheel.

Till comes the magic press,
And turns the crank in lives of toil,
And beckons angels down to bless
The hands that work on soil and mill,
Here sun-drenched soil with shining spade,
Links like to take with silver tines,
Strung thick with pulses of trade,
And temples towering to the skies.
